

Armed Forces Families, Children & Young People

Educators - Sharing Good Practice

Wednesday, 25 September 2024. 10:00 - 16:00hrs

Hosted by Aberdeenshire Council
Woodhill House, Aberdeen AB16 5GB

This event will provide an opportunity to

- share ideas, information and challenges with colleagues,
- learn more about armed forces families (serving and veterans),
- reflect on current practice, professional development and forward planning, and
- discuss how we engage with parents, families and children to support their learning journeys.

This will also be a chance to add value to the research that focuses on children from Armed Forces families, with Additional Support Needs, and the impact of mobility. The research is being undertaken by Edinburgh Napier University, Centre for Military Research, Education and Public Engagement in partnership with ADES.

About ADES

ADES (the Association of Directors of Education in Scotland), Education Scotland, the Scottish Government (Scottish Armed Forces Education Support Group-SAFESG) and Edinburgh Napier University-Centre for Military Research, Education and Public Engagement are working in collaboration to present this event.

*Further information will be provided soon: programme, joining instructions, support documents.
To register for the event, email info@forceschildrenseducation.org.uk*

FORCES CHILDREN'S EDUCATION

www.forceschildrenseducation.org.uk

(e) info@forceschildrenseducation.org.uk

A · D · E · S

Carolyn MacLeod MBE

National Education & Transitions Officer

(e) nationaltransitionsofficerades@gmail.com

(m) 07931565961

Future date

The next 'Educators - Sharing Good Practice' event will be held on Tuesday, 26 November 2024 at Edinburgh Napier University, the Centre for Military Research, Education, and Public Engagement. More information will follow.